Features of Villa Rugs:

- Larger dimensions suitable for room-sized coverage
- More complex, detailed geometric or floral motifs
- Finer weave and higher knot density
- Use of a broader color palette, including softer, more muted tones
- Designs often include medallions, borders, and intricate field patterns

These rugs were initially functional, used in daily life, but over time they evolved into artistic expressions representing tribal identity, social status, and spiritual beliefs.

As tribes migrated or settled into villages, their weaving styles adapted, blending local influences with traditional motifs. The nomadic lifestyle fostered spontaneous, improvisational design, resulting in rugs characterized by their raw authenticity.

- Guls: Repeating medallions signifying tribal identity (common in Turkmen rugs)
