A digraph is a combination of two letters that produce a single sound or phoneme. In English, digraphs are common and serve to represent sounds that do not have dedicated single-letter symbols. Examples include "sh," "ch," "th," and "ph." The GH digraph is one such example, with its pronunciation varying significantly depending on context.

The Variability of "GH"

The GH digraph exhibits multiple pronunciations and functions:

This variability adds a layer of complexity and richness when incorporating "gh" words into poetry. Poets can exploit these phonetic nuances to create subtle sound patterns, thematic contrasts, or layered meanings.
