War of Hearts unfolds during a time of significant upheaval, capturing the turbulence of war and societal change through the lens of its protagonists. Their romance is set against themes of loyalty, sacrifice, and divine providence, emphasizing how faith sustains them through their personal and collective struggles.

The novel weaves together moments of intense conflict—both external, like battles and political upheaval, and internal, such as moral dilemmas and spiritual crises—to create a layered narrative that invites readers to reflect on the restorative power of faith and love.

Sacrifice emerges as a recurring motif, illustrating that true love often entails personal loss or compromise.
