Fiqh Zakat 4 Mazhab

Zakat is one of the fundamental pillars of Islam, serving as a means to purify wealth and assist those in need. Understanding the detailed jurisprudence or fiqh of zakat is essential for Muslims to fulfill this obligation correctly. The concept of fiqh zakat varies across the four main Sunni schools of thought, known as mazhab: Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, and Hanbali. Each mazhab offers unique perspectives, rules, and methodologies regarding the calculation, eligibility, and distribution of zakat. This article provides a comprehensive overview of fiqh zakat according to these four schools, highlighting similarities, differences, and practical applications.

Overview of Fiqh Zakat in the Four Mazhab

In Islam, zakat is obligatory for Muslims who meet specific criteria related to wealth and assets. While the core principles are consistent, the four Sunni schools interpret some details differently. These differences stem from varying sources of Islamic jurisprudence, including Hadith, scholarly consensus (ijma), and reasoning (qiyas). Understanding these distinctions helps Muslims observe zakat accurately according to their school of thought.

Foundations of Zakat in the Four Mazhab

Common Principles

All four mazhab agree on several fundamental aspects of zakat:

- Obligation for Muslims with wealth exceeding the nisab (minimum threshold).
- Payable on specific types of wealth, such as gold, silver, cash, agricultural produce, livestock, and business goods.
- Calculated annually, often based on the lunar calendar.
- Distribution to eligible recipients, including the poor, needy, and others specified in the Qur'an and Hadith.

Differences in Interpretation

Despite these common principles, the schools differ in:

- Criteria for nisab and hadh thresholds.
- The types of assets subject to zakat and their specific rates.
- Methodologies for calculating the zakat amount.
- Recipients eligible for zakat and how the distribution is managed.

Zakat on Wealth: Definitions and Thresholds

Nisab and Hadh

The nisab is the minimum amount of wealth a Muslim must possess before zakat becomes obligatory. The hadh refers to the threshold for certain assets, especially livestock.

- Hanafi: Defines nisab primarily based on silver (52.5 grams) or gold (87.48 grams). The hadh for livestock varies depending on species.
- Maliki: Emphasizes nisab based on silver or gold and considers the type of asset.
- Shafi'i: Uses similar thresholds, with specific attention to different assets.
- Hanbali: Also bases nisab on silver or gold, with detailed rulings for various assets.

Assets Subject to Zakat

The four schools agree on the main categories, but their detailed rulings differ:

- Gold and Silver: Zakat is payable on jewelry, coins, and bullion above the nisab.
- Cash and Monetary Assets: Zakat is due on savings, business cash, and bank balances beyond the nisab.
- Agricultural Produce: Zakat is paid on harvests, with rates varying among schools.
- Livestock: Zakat is applicable on camels, cattle, and sheep, with specific thresholds and ratios.
- Business Goods and Merchandise: Zakat is payable on inventory or stock held for trade.

Calculation of Zakat in the Four Mazhab

Gold and Silver

- Hanafi: Zakat is 2.5% on gold and silver exceeding the nisab.
- Maliki: Similar calculation, with emphasis on the hawl (one lunar year) period.
- Shafi'i & Hanbali: Also set at 2.5%, with specific rules on what constitutes nisab.

Cash and Savings

- All schools agree on paying 2.5% of the accumulated amount if it exceeds the nisab and has been held for one lunar year.

Agricultural Produce

- Hanafi: Produces 5% (or 10% if irrigation is natural) of crops.
 - Maliki: Similar, with slight variations.
 - Shafi'i & Hanbali: Generally agree on 5%, but some differences exist based on water source and crop type.

Livestock

Each school has detailed rules:

- Camels:
 - Hanafi: Zakat on specific numbers, e.g., 5-9 camels require 1 sheep.
 - Maliki: Similar thresholds, with additional rulings.
 - Shafi'i & Hanbali: Detailed tiers based on camel counts.
- Cattle and Sheep:
 - Thresholds vary depending on herd size, with specific zakat obligations at certain counts.

Business Goods

All four schools agree on paying 2.5% on the inventory held for trade beyond the nisab.

Recipients of Zakat According to the Four Mazhab

The Qur'an specifies eight categories of zakat recipients (asnaf), which are universally recognized. The schools differ slightly in their emphasis and interpretation:

- Al-Fuqara? (the poor)
- Al-Masakin (the needy)
- Amil Zakat (administrators)
- Muallafatu Qulubuhum (those whose hearts are to be reconciled)
- Ar-Riqaab (slaves and captives)
- Al-Gharimun (debtors)

- Fi Sabilillah (in the way of Allah)
- Ibnu Sabil (travelers in need)

The differences lie in the detailed criteria for each category and their prioritization.

Practical Application and Modern Considerations

Understanding fiqh zakat per mazhab helps Muslims fulfill their obligations with precision. Here are practical tips:

- Identify all assets subject to zakat according to your school of thought.
- Calculate the nisab based on current market values of gold or silver.
- Ensure assets have been held for at least one lunar year (hawl).
- Distribute zakat to eligible recipients, either directly or via trusted institutions.
- Consider modern assets like stocks, cryptocurrencies, and business investments?consult scholars from your mazhab for guidance.

Note: Differences among schools may influence the exact amount due or the assets liable. Consulting a knowledgeable scholar or Islamic authority can help clarify specific cases.

Conclusion

Fiqh zakat across the four Sunni schools of thought provides a rich and detailed framework for Muslims to fulfill their religious duties accurately. While the core principles remain consistent, the nuances in calculation, asset classification, and distribution reflect the diversity and depth of Islamic jurisprudence. By understanding these differences and applying them conscientiously, Muslims can ensure their zakat is valid, effective, and in accordance with their scholarly tradition, ultimately fulfilling one of the pillars of Islam and fostering social justice within the community.

Fiqh Zakat 4 Mazhab: An In-Depth Examination of Zakat Practices Across Sunni Schools of Jurisprudence

Zakat, one of the five pillars of Islam, is a fundamental act of worship and social responsibility that commands Muslims to purify their wealth and assist those in need. The understanding and implementation of zakat, however, are not monolithic; rather, they are shaped by the rich tapestry of Islamic jurisprudence (fiqh), which has been historically divided into several schools of thought or mazhab. Among these, the four major Sunni schools?Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, and Hanbali?offer nuanced perspectives on zakat that reflect their distinct methodologies, interpretative principles, and historical contexts.

This article aims to explore the fiqh zakat 4 mazhab comprehensively, examining their similarities, differences, and practical implications. Such an analysis is not only academically enriching but also essential for Muslims seeking clarity in their religious obligations and for scholars and institutions working within diverse jurisprudential frameworks.

Overview of Zakat in Islamic Jurisprudence

Zakat, literally meaning "purification" or "growth," is mandated in the Qur'an and Hadith as a means to redistribute wealth, purify the soul, and foster social justice. Its prescribed rate, categories of eligible recipients, and the assets subject to zakat vary across different schools, shaped by their interpretative approaches.

The foundational sources for zakat jurisprudence are:

- The Qur'an (primary source)
- The Sunnah (Prophetic traditions)
- Jurisprudential consensus (ijma)
- Analogical reasoning (qiyas)
- Juristic preference (istislah)

The four Sunni mazhab each derive their zakat rulings through a combination of these sources, with methodological differences influencing their fiqh.

Core Principles of Zakat in the Four Sunni Mazhab

Before delving into individual differences, it is vital to understand the core principles common across the four schools:

- Nisab (Minimum Threshold): Zakat is obligatory only if one's wealth exceeds a certain threshold.
- Hawl (Time Period): Zakat is due annually, after a lunar year ("hawl").
- Assets Subject to Zakat: Includes specific types of wealth such as savings, commodities, livestock, and agricultural produce.
- Recipients: The eight categories outlined in the Qur'an (Surah At-Tawbah 9:60).
- Rate: Usually 2.5% for gold, silver, cash, and trade goods; other assets have different rates or conditions.

Despite these shared principles, the schools diverge in details, such as the exact assets liable, calculation methods, and specific conditions.

The Hanafi Approach to Zakat

Methodology and Sources

The Hanafi school, founded by Imam Abu Hanifa (699?767 CE), is known for its reliance on qiyas and istislah, giving significant weight to analogical reasoning and public interest. It often emphasizes practical considerations and contextual adaptation.

Assets Subject to Zakat

- Gold and Silver: Zakat is due on stored gold and silver exceeding nisab (~85 grams of gold or its equivalent). The rate is 2.5%.
- Cash and Savings: Hanafi fiqh considers cash, bank deposits, and savings as zakatable if they meet the nisab and hawl.
- Trade Goods: Merchandise held for sale is zakatable at the same rate.
- Agricultural Produce: Agricultural crops are zakatable if irrigated naturally; the rate varies based on irrigation method.
- Livestock: Generally, livestock is not zakatable unless specified; for example, sheep, camels, and cattle are subject to specific conditions.

Disputed or Differing Points

- The Hanafi school traditionally emphasizes zakat on cash and trade goods but is more lenient regarding agricultural produce compared to other schools, particularly for irrigated crops.
- The nisab for silver and gold is strictly observed, but some Hanafi scholars also consider the value of the assets in local currency for practicality.

Maliki Fiqh on Zakat

Methodology and Sources

The Maliki school, founded by Imam Malik (711?795 CE), emphasizes the practices of Madinan Muslims (amal ahl al-Madina) and relies heavily on the Sunnah and the consensus of the community. It tends to take a more conservative stance regarding zakat, with an emphasis on tangible assets.

Assets Subject to Zakat

- Gold and Silver: Similar to other schools, with the same nisab and rate.
- Money and Cash: Considered zakatable, especially if stored and retained for a year.
- Trade Goods: Items held for sale are zakatable.
- Agricultural Produce: The Maliki school stipulates that crops are zakatable if irrigated naturally; the rate is 10% (or 5% if manually irrigated).
- Livestock: Specific rules apply, with zakat due on camels, cattle, and sheep under certain conditions.

Special Features

- The Maliki stance emphasizes the importance of local custom and practice, sometimes leading to variations based on regional contexts.
- Agricultural zakat is often calculated based on the type and method of irrigation, with precise rates.

Shafi'i Fiqh and Zakat

Methodology and Sources

The Shafi'i school, founded by Imam al-Shafi'i (767?820 CE), relies on the Qur'an and Hadith primarily, with careful textual analysis. It tends to prescribe clear-cut rules and detailed regulations.

Assets Subject to Zakat

- Gold and Silver: Same nisab and rate as other schools.
- Cash and Bank Deposits: Considered zakatable if held for a lunar year.
- Trade Goods: Fully zakatable.
- Agricultural Produce: The rate is typically 5% (or 10%) depending on irrigation.
- Livestock: Zakat on camels, cattle, and sheep, with specific thresholds.

Distinctive Points

- The Shafi'i school emphasizes the importance of exact calculation and often prescribes detailed rules concerning the types of assets and their zakat rates.
- The school recognizes a variety of assets but emphasizes the importance of intention and ownership.

Hanbali Fiqh on Zakat

Methodology and Sources

The Hanbali school, founded by Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal (780?855 CE), prioritizes the Qur'an and authentic Hadiths, often taking a conservative stance. It is less reliant on analogy and promotes strict adherence to textual evidence.

Assets Subject to Zakat

- Gold and Silver: Same as other schools.
- Cash and Savings: Zakat is due if the wealth exceeds nisab and is held for a lunar year.
- Trade Goods: Zakat is obligatory.
- Agricultural Produce: The rate is 10%, consistent with other schools, with specific rules on irrigation.
- Livestock: Similar thresholds and rates as other schools.

Notable Features

- The Hanbali approach tends to be cautious, emphasizing precise adherence to textual sources.
- It may be less flexible regarding modern financial instruments but maintains strict rules for traditional assets.

Comparative Analysis of the Four Mazhab on Zakat

Aspect	Hanafi	Maliki	Shafi'i	Hanbali
Primary Sources	Qiyas, istislah	Sunnah, community practice	Qur'an, Hadith	Qur'an, authentic Hadith
Gold & Silver Nisab	85 grams of gold	85 grams of gold	85 grams of gold	85 grams of gold

Livestock	Specific thresholds, varies	Specific thresholds	Specific thresholds	Specific thresholds

| Additional Emphases | Practicality, public interest | Local customs | Textual rigor | Textual authenticity, strict adherence |

Implications for Contemporary Practice

The differences among the four mazhab influence contemporary zakat practice, especially in multicultural or multi-jurisdictional contexts. For instance:

- Financial Assets: Modern banking and financial instruments may not be explicitly addressed in classical fiqh, requiring scholars to adapt rulings.
- Agricultural Zakat: Variations in rates and irrigation considerations impact farmers' obligations.
- Livestock: Modern animal husbandry may present challenges in applying classical thresholds.
- Zakat Calculation Software: Different schools may lead to variations in automated calculations, emphasizing the need for clarity and transparency.

Understanding these differences helps Muslims fulfill their obligations accurately and in accordance with their scholarly tradition. It also fosters respectful dialogue among diverse jurisprudential communities.

Conclusion

The fiqh zakat 4 mazhab showcases the rich interpretative diversity within Sunni Islamic jurisprudence concerning this

The Historical and Scholarly Context of the Four Imams

Foundations of Sunni Jurisprudence

The four Imams—Abu Hanifa (699–767 CE), Malik (711–795 CE), Shafi'i (767–820 CE), and Ahmad ibn Hanbal (780–855 CE)—each emerged from different regions of the Islamic world, shaping jurisprudential thought that reflected diverse legal, cultural, and theological contexts.

- Imam Abu Hanifa: Based in Kufa, Iraq, he emphasized the use of personal reasoning (ijtihad) and analogy (qiyas). His school is known for its flexibility and adaptability, making it prevalent in Central Asia, the Indian Subcontinent, and Turkey.
- Imam Malik: Originating from Medina, he prioritized the practices (amal) of the people of Medina as a source of Sunnah, alongside the Qur'an and Hadith. His school remains influential in North and West Africa.
- Imam Shafi'i: Born in Gaza but based in Mecca and later Egypt, he systematized the principles of jurisprudence (usul al-fiqh) and emphasized the importance of Hadith as a primary source.
- Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal: Based in Baghdad, he was known for his strict adherence to authentic Hadith and his resistance to rationalist innovations, leading to his school's reputation for conservatism and resilience.

These differing approaches exemplify the diversity within Sunni Islamic law and reflect a spectrum of methodologies that scholars have continued to develop and debate over centuries.

Challenges and Misunderstandings

Despite their revered status, the four Imams have sometimes been misrepresented or misunderstood, especially in modern narratives that seek to portray their schools as rigid, intolerant, or outdated. Such criticisms often overlook the historical contexts, the diversity within each madhhab, and the scholarly rigor involved in their derivations.

Common misconceptions include:

- Implying rigid dogmatism: The Imams are sometimes accused of promoting inflexibility, ignoring the adaptability and contextual considerations within their jurisprudential frameworks.
- Associating their schools with violence: This mischaracterization arises from political or extremist groups co-opting or misrepresenting the schools' teachings.

Scholarly Debates and Critical Engagement

The Role of Ijtihad and Taqlid

A significant debate addressed within the work pertains to ijihad (independent reasoning) versus taqlid (blind following). Critics sometimes allege that the schools promote unquestioning adherence, whereas defenders highlight the scholars' nuanced understanding that taqlid is context-dependent and that ijihad remains a vital part of Islamic law.

- The Imams recognized the importance of ijihad but also acknowledged the need for taqlid in certain contexts, especially when qualified scholars agree on legal rulings.
- The work clarifies that following a madhhab is not unthinking adherence but a form of scholarly discipline rooted in the recognition of expert consensus.

Modern Challenges and the Relevance of the Imams' Methodologies

In contemporary times, issues such as human rights, democracy, gender justice, and scientific advancements pose new challenges for Islamic jurisprudence. The book explores how the methodologies of the four Imams can be applied or adapted to contemporary issues.

Each madhhab has its unique stance and approach regarding ijtiha. Understanding these facts helps clarify how Islamic law remains rooted in tradition while accommodating diversity and complexity.

Fact 1: The Historical Development of Ijtiha in Each Madhhab

Hanafi Madhhab

- Founded by Imam Abu Hanifa (699?767 CE)
- Emphasized the use of qiyas (analogical reasoning) and ra'y (personal opinion) especially in early development

- Recognized the importance of istislah (consideration of public interest)
- Allowed for more extensive ijtihad during its formative period, leading to a flexible legal framework

Maliki Madhhab

- Established by Imam Malik (711?795 CE)
- Gave significant weight to amal (practice) of the people of Medina as a source
- Used maslahah (public interest) and maslahah mursalah (unrestricted public interest) in legal reasoning

- Developed a tradition of scholarly consensus (ijma) that influenced ijtihad practices

Shafi'i Madhhab

- Founded by Imam Al-Shafi'i (767?820 CE)
- Emphasized strict adherence to the Qur'an and Sunnah
- Used qiyas systematically and limited ra'y to cases where text was silent
- Developed a coherent methodology that prioritized textual sources

Hanbali Madhhab

- Founded by Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal (780?855 CE)
- Favored reliance on hadith and strict textual evidence
- Restrained the scope of ijtihad, emphasizing tradition
- Allowed ijtihad mainly through hadith and avoided speculative reasoning

Fact 2: Methodological Approaches to Ijtihad in the Madhhabs

Hanafi Methodology

- Utilizes qiyas, ra'y, and istislah
- Places importance on juristic preference (istihsan) to avoid hardship
- Considers maqasid al-sharia (objectives of Islamic law)

Maliki Methodology

- Prioritizes amal of Medina community as a source
- Uses maslahah as a basis for legal judgment
- Employs ijma as a strong authority, sometimes overriding textual evidence

Shafi'i Methodology

- Systematic application of qiyas
- Strictly adheres to the texts, with minimal reliance on ra'y
- Promotes istislah as a secondary source when texts are silent

Hanbali Methodology

- Heavy reliance on authentic hadith
- Minimal use of qiyas; sometimes rejects qiyas if not grounded in hadith
- Emphasizes the importance of sunnah and hadith over analogy

Fact 3: The Role of Qualified Scholars and Muftis in Ijtihad

Qualifications Required for Ijtihad

- Deep knowledge of Qur'an and Sunnah
- Mastery of Arabic language and jurisprudential sciences
- Familiarity with usul al-fiqh (principles of jurisprudence)
- Ability to interpret texts contextually and linguistically

Role of Scholars in Each Madhhab

- Hanafi scholars often engaged in ijtiha to address new issues, especially during the Islamic Golden Age
- Maliki scholars relied on amal and ijma from Medina, but also practiced ijtiha when needed
- Shafi'i scholars emphasized textual analysis and systematic reasoning
- Hanbali scholars prioritized hadith and were cautious in issuing new rulings

Contemporary Muftis and Ijtihad

- Modern scholars continue to exercise ijtiha within the boundaries set by the madhhabs

- Recognize the importance of context, scientific knowledge, and societal needs
- Emphasize adherence to madhhabi principles while addressing modern issues

Fact 4: Boundaries and Limitations of Ijtihad within the Madhabs

Limits Imposed by the Madhabs

- Ijtihad should be conducted by qualified scholars (mujtahid)
- Cannot contradict established texts (Qur'an and Sunnah)
- Should respect the principles and methodologies of the respective madhhab
- Avoid unnecessary ra'y or personal opinions that lack textual backing

Consensus and the Role of Ijma

- Ijma (scholarly consensus) often limits the scope of ijihad
- When consensus is reached, it becomes a binding authority
- Ijma helps prevent divergence and maintain unity in jurisprudence

Situations Allowing for Ijtihad

- Cases where clear textual evidence is absent
- New issues arising due to technological, scientific, or societal changes
- When existing rulings need reinterpretation to serve justice and public interest

Contemporary Perspectives on Ijtihad Boundaries

- Scholars advocate for renewed ijihad in modern contexts
- Emphasize the importance of adhering to madhhabi frameworks to prevent chaos
- Recognize the need for scholarly consensus in complex modern issues

Conclusion

Understanding the four madhabs facts about ijihad reveals the dynamic yet disciplined nature of Islamic jurisprudence. The historical evolution, methodological approaches, role of scholars, and boundaries set around ijihad reflect a balanced approach that maintains fidelity to foundational texts while allowing flexibility for societal development. Recognizing these facts enriches our appreciation of how Islamic law continues to serve diverse communities, adapt to new challenges, and uphold justice and righteousness.

The four madhhabs collectively demonstrate that ijtiḥad is a vital, respected, and carefully regulated process that ensures the ongoing relevance and integrity of Islamic law. Whether in classical or modern contexts, the principles underlying ijtiḥad remain central to the pursuit of justice, equity, and spiritual guidance in the Muslim world.

Understanding the Four Madhhabs Facts About Ijtiḥad

Ijtiḥad holds a central place in Islamic jurisprudence, representing the dynamic process through which scholars derive legal rulings from the foundational texts of Islam ? the Quran and the Sunnah. The four prominent Sunni madhhabs?Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, and Hanbali?each have unique perspectives and methodologies regarding ijtiḥad, yet they share core principles that underpin their legal reasoning. To truly grasp the nuances of these madhhabs, it is essential to explore four fundamental facts about ijtiḥad that define their approach and influence Islamic law across different contexts.

1. Ijtiḥad as a Source of Islamic Law: Its Role and Limitations

Understanding Ijtiḥad's Position in Islamic Jurisprudence

Ijtiḥad, literally meaning "exertion" or "effort," refers to the scholarly effort to derive legal rulings when clear texts are absent or ambiguous. It is considered a vital mechanism in the development and adaptation of Islamic law, especially during times of new issues or circumstances not directly addressed in the primary texts.

Core facts about ijtiḥad as a legal source include:

- Secondary Nature:

While the Quran and Sunnah are primary sources (Qawliyyah and Fi'liyyah), ijtiḥad serves as an essential secondary source, enabling scholars to fill gaps and apply principles to novel situations.

- Scope of Ijtihad:

It encompasses various methods such as analogy (qiyas), consensus (ijma), juristic preference (istislal), and reasoning by means of principles (qawa'id fihiyyah).

- Limitations and Boundaries:

The validity of ijtihad depends on the scholar's knowledge, piety, and adherence to authentic methodologies. The Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) emphasized the importance of following the Quran and Sunnah, warning against blind reasoning or conjecture.

Key facts:

- The four madhabs recognize ijtihad as an essential, though sometimes limited, process?especially in early Islamic history.
- Over time, the scope of permissible ijtihad has been debated, with some schools emphasizing taqlid (following established rulings) in later periods.
- Certain rulings are considered maqbul (acceptable) only when derived through legitimate ijtihad, while others are considered mashhur (well-known) and established through consensus.

Implication for Modern Contexts

The recognition of ijtihad as a source underscores the flexibility and adaptability of Islamic law but also highlights the importance of scholarly integrity and strict methodology. This fact encourages continual scholarly engagement, especially when confronting new challenges like technological advances, bioethics, and contemporary socio-political issues.

2. The Variability of Methodologies Among the Four Madhabs

Distinct Approaches to Ijtihad in Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, and Hanbali Schools

Each madhhab has developed its own methodology for performing ijtihad, reflecting different historical contexts, scholarly influences, and interpretive priorities.

Hanafi Madhhab:

- Emphasizes reason and analogy (qiyas) heavily.
- Values juristic preference (istislal) and custom (urf) in legal rulings.

- Tends to be more flexible, allowing for the use of independent reasoning (ra?y) with strict conditions.
- Relies on the principles derived from early companions and early Hanafi scholars like Abu Hanifa.

Maliki Madhhab:

- Prioritizes the practice of the people of Medina as a source of law, considering it a reflection of the Prophet's Sunnah.
- Uses maslahah (public interest) and customs extensively.
- Employs analogical reasoning but emphasizes the sunnah of the people of Medina as a key reference.
- Recognizes considerable flexibility in applying ijtiḥad based on local customs and contexts.

Shafi'i Madhhab:

- Places great emphasis on the Quran and Sunnah, giving them precedence over other sources.
- Uses qiyas as a primary method of deriving rulings, but with clear procedural rules.
- Advocates for strict adherence to textual evidences and rejection of juristic preference unless supported by texts.
- Recognizes ijma (consensus) as a vital source.

Hanbali Madhhab:

- Prioritizes the textual sources ? the Quran and Sunnah ? over other methods.
- Is cautious about analogical reasoning and prefers ḥadith as the main evidence.
- Uses ijtiḥad but with strict limitations, often emphasizing literal interpretation.
- Recognizes ijma but considers it less flexible in comparison to other madhhabs.

Summary of Methodological Variability:

Madhhab	Emphasis on Texts	Use of Analogy	Flexibility	Key Features
-----	-----	-----	-----	-----
Hanafi	Moderate	Heavy	High	Rationalist, adaptable, reasoning-oriented
Maliki	Context and practice	Extensive	Moderate	Practice-based, local customs prioritized

| Shafi'i | Strict textual adherence | Primary method | Less flexible | Text-centric, structured methodology |

| Hanbali | Textual, literal focus | Limited | Least flexible | Conservative, strict literalism |

Implication:

The differences in methodology demonstrate that ijtiḥad is not monolithic but varies according to school traditions. This diversity enriches the Islamic legal landscape, offering multiple perspectives and solutions grounded in authentic principles.

3. The Concept of Ijtiḥad Revival and its Limitations in Modern Times

Historical Decline and Contemporary Revival

Historically, the period of the Rightly Guided Caliphs and early scholars saw vibrant ijtiḥad, leading to a rich tapestry of legal opinions. Over time, especially during the later Islamic centuries, a gradual decline in independent ijtiḥad occurred, giving way to taqlid (imitation of established scholars).

Key facts about the revival:

- The Crisis of Ijtiḥad Decline:

Some scholars argue that the decline was due to political, social, and intellectual shifts, including the weakening of scholarly institutions and the rise of conservative attitudes.

- Modern Revival Movements:

In recent centuries, especially with the advent of reformist thinkers, there has been a push to revive ijtiḥad to address contemporary issues such as modern finance, bioethics, and human rights.

- Conditions for Ijtiḥad Revival:

- Scholars must possess deep knowledge of the Quran, Sunnah, and jurisprudential principles.
- There is a need for proper methodology to prevent ungrounded or arbitrary reasoning.
- The legal environment must support scholarly independence, free from political or sectarian pressures.

Limitations faced today include:

- Specialized Knowledge:

The vastness of modern issues requires highly specialized knowledge, which is often scarce among traditional scholars.

- Consensus and Tradition:

Many communities prefer taqlid due to the comfort of established rulings, diminishing incentives for independent reasoning.

- Risk of Misapplication:

Without proper safeguards, attempts at ijtiḥad can lead to misinterpretation or deviation from authentic sources.

Key facts:

- The majority of Sunni scholars agree that ijtiḥad is still possible but must be practiced with utmost integrity and knowledge.
- Some schools, especially Hanbali and Maliki, historically placed restrictions on ijtiḥad, influencing contemporary debates about its revival.
- The concept of ijtiḥad muqaddar, or potential for ijtiḥad, suggests that scholars should continually strive for renewal within the framework of tradition.

Implication:

Reviving ijtiḥad today is both necessary and challenging. It requires a balanced approach that respects tradition while embracing scholarly renewal, ensuring legal rulings remain relevant and authentic.

4. The Relationship Between Ijtiḥad and Ijma (Consensus)

Complementary and Distinct Aspects

While ijtiḥad and ijma are both crucial sources in Islamic jurisprudence, they serve different roles and have a nuanced relationship.

Core facts:

- Ijtihad as a Personal Effort:

It involves individual scholarly reasoning to derive rulings when no explicit consensus exists or when new issues arise.

- Ijma as a Collective Agreement:

It refers to the unanimous agreement of qualified scholars on a particular issue at a given time, serving as a collective binding authority.

- Interdependence:

- Ijtihad often precedes ijma; once a consensus is reached, it effectively terminates the need for further ijihad on that issue.

- In cases where explicit ijma is not present, scholars rely on ijihad to fill the gaps.

Key facts:

- The validity of ijma depends on the correctness of the underlying ijihad; if the initial reasoning is flawed, the consensus may be challenged.

- The four madhhabs often cite ijma to legitimize their rulings, but they also recognize that ijma is a rare occurrence.

- Some scholars argue that ijma is a higher authority than individual ijihad, providing stability and unity
